About Our Speaker

Kevin Gray – CTO | METROLINK

Kevin Gray is a multiple award-winning CIO whose vision and leadership have helped transform multiple technology organizations to deliver world-class business satisfaction. As a member of Metrolink's executive leadership team, Mr. Gray drives digital modernization, process optimization, and strategic collaboration while managing the day-to-day activities of the agency's Integrated Digital and Technology Services (IDTS) Department, including enterprise applications, cybersecurity, train control systems, network operations, fare collections, and technology infrastructure.

Mr. Gray has served as the City of Burbank's Chief Information Officer (CIO) from 2018 to 2024. He was responsible for driving the City's digital transformation and technology strategies and managing the IT department's overall operations. Mr. Gray's vision is for his team to serve as trusted partners, advisors, and service providers to their business.

Before joining the City of Burbank, Mr. Gray was the VP of Global Media and Infrastructure Technology at Viacom, managing worldwide teams in IT architecture, engineering, operations, and technical support. Prior to that, Mr. Gray served as the VP of IT Infrastructure and Operations at Paramount Pictures where he led the architecture planning, design, implementation, and operations of computing and telecommunications.

Mr. Gray is the Municipal Information Systems Association of California (MISAC) Southern Chapter Past President. He serves on several other boards including Innovate@UCLA, Southern California Chapter of the Society of Information Management (SCSIM), University of California Irvine Extension Customer Experience 2.0 Program, Southern California Evanta CIO Summit, and the Burbank Community YMCA.
